FLOODING

during the next two days. Volunteers labored through the night sandbagging levees along the Arroyo Colorado, used as a diversionary channel in the multimillion-dollar Rio Grande floodway.

National Guard troops stood by ready to move patients from the Texas Tuberculosis Hospital, 300 yards from the Arroyo where the water was rising about one inch per hour.

Evacuations continued into the morning as hurriedly packed bags of sand held back the water elsewhere. At one Harlingen street, the level was two feet up the side of a 4½-foot dike.

The flood, rising steadily, at midnight reached 42.05 feet. At 1 a.m., the reading was 42.40 feet, but boundary commission officials said the rate of climb was slowing.

Huge trucks loaded with furniture continued to make trips out of the flooded area, splashing for blocks to reach dry streets. Water stood rooftop high in a neighborhood of $20,000 to $50,000 homes. Many residents had to leave quickly, fleeing with only the clothes they wore.

Joe Tucker, boundary commission engineer, said there was only a glimmer of hope that the river would drop anytime soon. The Rio Grande, swollen to five miles wide in places, was decreasing in depth north of Harlingen.

"We appear to be past the crest on the Rio Grande," Tucker added, "but the water appears to be stacking up in Harlingen."

Tucker said Arroyo City residents and persons at Rio Hondo, both downstream, "should be evacuating." The National Guard was frantically constructing dikes at Rio Hondo.

Meanwhile, some 160 miles up the coast, residents of Corpus Christi's north beach braced for floodwaters from the Nueces River. Hundreds routed from their homes shortly after Beulah struck early Wednesday may have to leave again.

Authorities said a rise of four to six feet was due on the upper reaches of Nueces Bay today. The burgeoning stream hit a point 8.5 feet above flood stage at the Corpus Christi suburb of Calallen Monday. Two highways were closed.

specify what the cuts will amount to.

Byrnes told the American Bankers Association meeting in New York: "The tax increase and reduction in spending should be of a size which would assume that the deficit for fiscal 1968 could be cut in half."

The President seeks a 10 percent surcharge on income taxes. Byrnes' proposal for spending totaled a $5 billion cut.

Taking direct issue with Fowl's view, Byrnes said: "We will not get a tax increase from Congress until a reduction in spending is assured."

WIFE, ATTORNEY

In the thigh.

Attendants said Parker had set the alimony when Bivins, a six-footer weighing over 200 pounds, advanced to the bench and said, "You've had your say, now I'm going to have mine."

He pulled a snub-nosed revolver and, according to court reporter Mrs. Frances Geyerman, announced: "I'm going to kill every s.o.b. in this courtroom."

Brady told Bivins to put the gun away, witnesses said.

"I got up and stood beside Brady," recalled states Atty. R. J. Brennan, 39, who was representing Bivins. "Bivins stepped to within two feet of Bill and pulled the trigger."

"I just couldn't believe it. I didn't see any blood and I thought it was a blank. Then Bill started to lean toward me and fell to the floor. I immediately dropped to the floor to see if I could help him."

Then Mrs. Bivins was shot.

"When I stood up again," said the slim, greying Brennan, "Bivins had the gun pointed in my direction. As I dropped to the floor he fired again. I rolled under the table."

Two women attendants fled the high-ceilinged old courtroom. A bullet smashing into the wall splattered one of them with plaster.

The judge, a bespectacled, stocky man, threw his heavy, leather swivel chair over the bench at Bivins.

Brennan, an ex-paratrooper who was a World War II prisoner in Europe, arose again to see Bivins and the judge grappling. Another shot wounded Parker.

"Tom had Bivins from behind and was holding his right arm," said Brennan. "I reached in and grabbed that arm too, and wrenched the gun from Bivins' hand."

"Tom asked me if I could hold him while he went for help and I said I could. We rolled around on the floor behind the bench and I attempted to keep Bivins under control."

Deputies Mel Larson and George Tennyson, summoned from the sheriff's office four floors below, burst into the courtroom and helped overcome Bivins, who also was armed with an eight-inch hunting knife.

Voters Get Chance at Oregon Report

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The impact of the controversial Oregon Report will be measured in some respect today when Little Rock school patrons vote on a $1.9 million bond issue and two school board positions.

Incumbent James M. Coates Jr. has been an outspoken advocate of some of the recommendations in the report for school desegregation. He is opposed by Daniel H. Woods, William R. Meeks and Mrs. Glenn Alber will supply the opposition for incumbent William K. Bass.

Woods, Meeks and Mrs. Alber are opposed to the report while Bass has not committed himself.

Coates claims the freedom of choice plan has failed and that the schools of central Little Rock are being "over-integrated." He also says the central city is in danger of becoming a ghetto.

The continuance of the present neighborhood system of schools has been supported by Woods, Meeks and Mrs. Alber.

Some persons have estimated that as many as 25,000 persons of the approximately 99,000 eligible voters will vote but School Supt.

AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a business writer never would know if he kept his eyes closed: A small restaurant on Manhattan's Lower East Side does a big business selling "Oriental pizza." A nearby delicatessen offers "kosher Chinese food."

The people of Nantucket Island, the "little gray lady of the sea," do a thriving business making, bottling and selling "Rose Hip Jelly" to off-islanders. The jelly is made from the buds of roses which grow wild on the island.

A tiny New York art shop advertises: "Original oil paintings $3—no forgeries here."

New York, which estimates it removes 4½ pounds of garbage a day for each of its 8 million residents, spends more than $130 million a year on garbage removal. It also estimates it collects enough refuse each year to fill the 102-story Empire State Building 15 times.

And the chairman of one of the nation's large can companies estimates that each year Americans toss out more than 48 billion cans (more than 250 a person), 25 billion bottles and jars (135 a person), and 65 million metal and plastic caps and crowns (338 a person).

Souvenir spoons commemorating famous world's fairs of the past are sought avidly by some antique collectors. But with demand for the spoons so great, some of the collectors are getting out of spoons and into the less crowded field of souvenir forks.

There are better ways of making a living than bank robbery. The American Bankers Association says at least 53 per cent of

Historic Error in Guise of Artistry

By FRANCES LEWINE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Over the mantle in President Johnson's office is a historic portrait of Franklin D. Roosevelt incorporating a historic error that gets by under the guise of artistic license.

President Roosevelt might be a bit unhappy about the portrayal of himself holding "a rolled copy of the Atlantic Charter" since he went to some pains during his lifetime to set the record straight.

There is no "Atlantic Charter" document as such.

According to FDR and custodians of his Hyde Park, N.Y., presidential library, neither Roosevelt nor Britain's Winston Churchill ever signed any charter.

The nearest thing to a document, says Hyde Park Library Director Elizabeth Drewry, was a press release issued Aug. 14, 1941 to newspapermen aboard the British battleship Prince of Wales where Roosevelt and Churchill conferred in the Atlantic off the coast of Newfoundland during World War II.

She said FDR signed both his name and Churchill's to the typewritten statement which set forth the famous eight-point U.S.-British declaration of idealistic principles as guidelines for the postwar world.

Miss Drewry says the presidential library has that press release as "our original." And, she confirms there was no official document.

A controversy over this fact arose during Roosevelt's lifetime. In 1944, he confirmed no charter existed in written form and that there was no formal signed document entered into by him and Churchill.

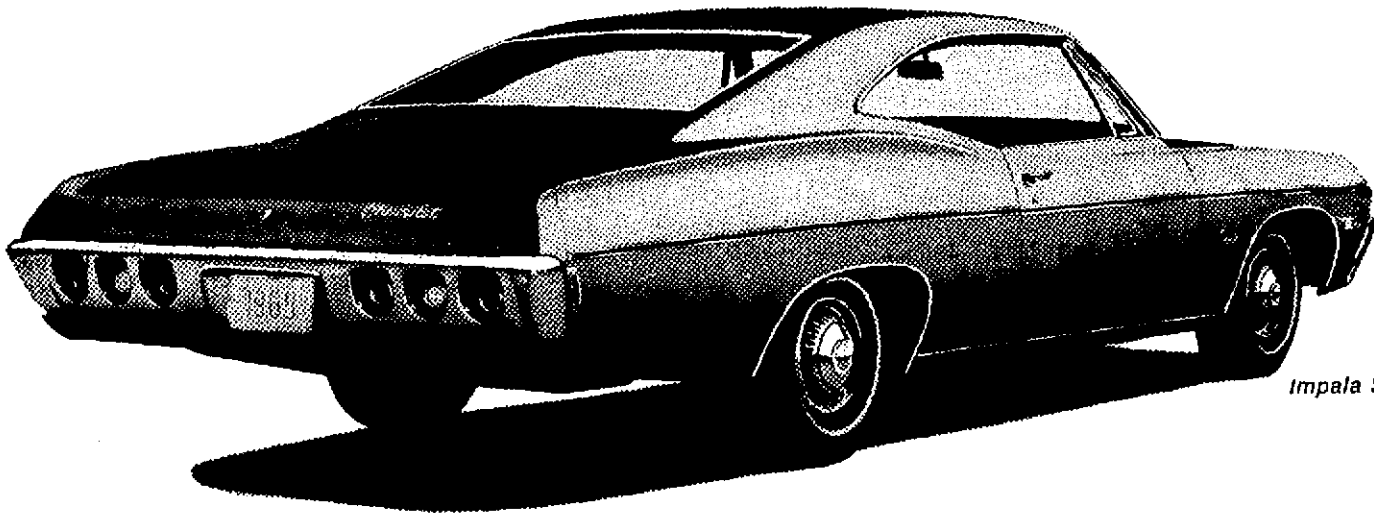

Despite all this historical background, artist Elizabeth Shoumatoff completed an oil portrait of Roosevelt in 1966 for the White House collection and the White House press release announcing the gift last January said:

"In this portrait, President Roosevelt is pictured in a three-quarter study, seated with the waters of the North Atlantic in the background. Wearing his favorite Navy cape, Roosevelt's powerful hands grasp a rolled copy of the Atlantic Charter, a joint declaration made by the president and Prime Minister Churchill on Aug. 14, 1941."

Cited Power of Salvation Helmet

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP) — A Bible-quoting housewife in Hutchinson is free on bond awaiting trial to test the new Kansas law requiring motorcycle riders to wear protective helmets.

Mrs. Juanita Silvey, 30, went to jail on Aug. 21 rather than pay a $10 fine for violating the helmet law. She said the "helmet of salvation" was the only protection she needed.

HELEN HELP US!

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us! it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED FOR IT, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper.

LETTER FROM A MALE

Dear Helen: Any teenage girl who believes a boy's line and gives in is either weak-minded, trampy or stupid. Yet they all seem to. I'm a boy of 16 and I've dated older girls, younger girls, pretty girls, and passable girls. They make me sick! Pushovers, every one of them! One kiss and they're gone!

You can take just so much of these idiots and then you decide you'll never get married, as who could you trust?

I'd sure like to find a girl who would put up a fight.

What do you think of them apples? — JOHNNY

Dear Johnny: I think they're mighty green — and I'll bet you only "dates" have been with sneaked copies of girlie magazines. Right lovebirds? — H.

Dear Helen: I got in a terrible fight with my two girl friends. They jumped

Couple Has Quadruplets

FUKUOKA, Japan (AP)—Girl quadruplets were born Sunday and reported doing well, although birth was premature by 45 days and each weighed only 3.3 pounds.

The mother, Mrs. Mutsuko Munakata, 28, was also reported in fine condition.

Doctors at National Central Hospital in this southwestern Japanese city said that if the quadruplets, now in incubators, maintain their present condition for another day, their chances of survival are excellent.

Father, Son Are Drowned

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—Robert Allred, 42, and his son, Larry Allred, 23, both of Trumann, drowned Saturday while fishing on the St. Francis River about 15 miles southeast of Jonesboro.

The Craighead County Sheriff's office said the Allreds jumped into the water after their boat passed beneath a low-hanging branch, dislodging a wasp's nest. Officers said the Allreds apparently were swept under by the current.

The bodies were recovered early Sunday.

me twice and I'm afraid to go out alone for fear of being beaten up. To top it all off, they've told terrible lies about me and now everyone thinks I'm a tramp. I'm afraid to try making new friends, because I know what they're thinking. How can I stop being SAD AND DISGRACED

Dear S and D:

Stop thinking "everyone" believes obvious lies. And let your parents handle the threats. Bullies back down fast when they find their victim is no longer afraid of them ... and nice-type friends will come when they see you're no longer mixed up with a couple of toughs. — H.

Dear Helen:

We've been broken up for several months. I've tried forgetting him, but it doesn't work. Everytime I see him, I just melt, but all we do is exchange smiles. How can I make myself see that it's hopeless? — MISS WANTING HIM BACK

Dear Miss WHB:

.... By making yourself see a boy who is hopeful. Disappointments are rough, but you'll face them all your life. If you learn early to face them with a grin and a shrug — and a sharp eye for what's around the corner — forgetting won't be nearly so hard. — H.

Dear Helen:

I've just about had it with my father. About six months ago I started going with a boy but my father said I had to stop because he was a hood. I kept seeing him anyway.

One night he took me for a ride that turned out to be in a stolen car and I got a ride home with the police. My father was furious. When he demanded me never to see him again, I told him to go to the devil. He has never really punished me, but this time my mother whispered to him and he pulled me over to the sofa and gave me a hard, hard spanking. Since then they've both told me they were sorry. I don't think they are, and I'm — LEAVING SOON

Dear L.S.:

By the time your letter reaches print, I hope you'll be sorry you ever wrote it. Your parents should not have apologized for giving you the punishment you deserved, and if you haven't already told them this, you need another spanking. — H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble, or just plain trouble, let Helen help YOU. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address: Helen Bottel in care of Hope Star. Copyright, 1967, Inc.

Car Leased by Hamilton Impounded

KINGMAN, Ariz. (AP) — A Rolls Royce limousine leased to actor George Hamilton, former beau of Lynda Bird Johnson, has been impounded by Kingman police.

Police Sgt. Darrell Warren found the unlocked car parked behind an all-night restaurant. Its driver, William McMurchey, about 30, had left the restaurant but Warren got in touch with him.

"He told me he was driving to Washington because there were some things in the car that belonged to Miss Johnson," Warren said. The police sergeant denied an earlier report that the car contained four mink coats.

The car had burnt out its brakes. Warren said he reached Hamilton at his Beverly Hills, Calif., home Monday and that the actor confirmed that the car was going to Washington but was quite upset to hear the Rolls was left unlocked by McMurchey, his secretary. Warren took the keys to the car at Hamilton's request. McMurchey, meanwhile, has flown back to Los Angeles.

Hamilton left for the East Coast here he was to rehearse for a series of plays in Maryland, Virginia and New Jersey. His agent, Bob Colbert, said in Los Angeles that returning belongings to Miss Johnson "was not the purpose of the trip. As far as I knew, this was luggage George would be using out East."

Colbert said that after the brakes are repaired, "maybe George's brother, Bill, will drive the rest of the way."

The car is under lock and key at a private garage in Kingman and will remain there until police hear from Hamilton. Meanwhile, Lynda Bird, 23, and her 28-year-old fiancée, Marine Capt. Charles Robb, were vacationing in Acapulco, Mex.

In their absence in the capital, the White House announced Monday the pair would be married Dec. 9 in the East Room of the Executive Mansion.

THE LONG CHASE is nearing its end, and California Angels manager Bill Rigney reclines in his clubhouse office. But there's little rest in sight for his team. The Angels, who climbed from last place in early June to a spot in the first division, hope to haunt the American League pennant contenders the remainder of the season.

Broyles Has Made Line
Changes

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles said Monday he had moved weakside guard Jim Jordan to strongside tackle and that the starting guards Saturday would be Jim Barnes and Pat May, both juniors.

Barnes backed up May at strongside guard last week against Oklahoma State while Jordan was the starter at weakside guard. Broyles said Barnes would start at strongside guard and May would play weakside guard.

Broyles said that since Saturday's game here with Tulsa will be the visitors' season opener he did not know anything about the Hurricane except that "they're the biggest team we've ever played."

Broyles said the Porks had "good learning practice" Monday and that they adjusted their defense to Tulsa's offense.

The Razorbacks practiced 90 minutes without pads. Broyles had quarterback Gordon Norwood practicing his punting. The workout concluded with punt and kickoff coverage.

Broyles said some of the players were a "little sore" but that there were no injuries. He said the team's attitude had improved greatly since the 7-6 loss to Oklahoma State.

Yerger Loses to Peake of Arkadelphia

By CHARLES JONES

The Yerger Tigers were defeated by the Arkadelphia Waterbuffaloes last Saturday night by the score of 31-13. The big factors of the game were penalties against Yerger on which the Waterbuffaloes capitalized.

Yerger scored early in the first period on a 21 yard run by the quarterback David Block and Jonnie Smith kicked the extra point to make the score 7-0. Yerger kicked off, but recovered a fumble and scored again on an 18 yard pass play from David Block to halfback Jonnie Smith. The PAT was no good so the score was 13-0, but a few plays later Peake High scored to make the score 13-6.

During the second quarter, the Waterbuffaloes scored again to make the score a few minutes before the first half expired 13-12. There wasn't much action in the third quarter, but Peake High scored three touchdowns in the fourth quarter to make the final score Yerger 13 and Arkadelphia 31.

Smallest atoms that have been measured are less than four billionths of an inch across.

His 1967 record is 3-10, and his career mark for four major league clubs since 1958 is 67-92, across.

Malvern
Next Foe
of Bobcats

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports writer

Let's forget about "Black Week"; it ended Saturday. Forget the past and live for today. Football season has barely begun, and some think it's already over.

Coming Friday night the Hope Bobcats take on our biggest opponent of the year, the Malvern Leopards, in Malvern. Also the Bobkittens will hit the road this week, traveling to Camden on Thursday night to play the Panther Cubs. The Kittens will be trying to get back in the win column after losing to Arkadelphia. These should be good ball games, and the local fans that are able should follow the teams.

Arkansas' Razorbacks will play host to the Tulsa Hurricanes Saturday afternoon at Fayetteville, and the Hurricane has one of their best squads ever for '67. Meanwhile, fans aren't talking about what the Razorbacks did last Saturday. In the only Southwest Conference game, Texas will meet the Red Raiders of Texas Tech in Austin Saturday night.

Pro football's AFL and NFL settled down into their regular schedules last Sunday, with the only big surprise coming in the AFL, as the Boston Patriots smashed the Buffalo Bills 23-0. It was the first time that Buffalo had been shut-out since the league came into existence in 1960. So much for that.

Remember the officiating crew at last year's controversial Arkansas - Texas Tech game, in which Jon Brittenum was not given the touchdown he easily made twice. Well, the Southwest Conference cut their number of approved refs for 1967, and the whole crew mentioned above were cut from the list.

The SWC has a new supervisor of officials beginning this season. He is Cliff Speegle, former head coach at Oklahoma State. He left Stillwater a couple of years ago, when Phil Cutchin took over the head mentor's duties. Speegle likes the job, and should be good for the conference.

Finally, Arkansas Razorback assistant coach Mickey O'Quinn was promoted from the fresh to the varsity staff this fall. An outstanding coach at Warren several years ago, O'Quinn left there for the U of A to complete work on his master's degree. He's still up there, but now as a coach. He also coached one of the Hope High coaching staff in high school at Warren. Bobcat assistant coach Ronnie Higgins played for O'Quinn, and went on to an outstanding career as a fullback at Arkansas A&M College.

Oriole Hurler Moves on to the Astros

BALTIMORE (AP) — John Buzhardt, a member of the Baltimore Orioles' pitching staff for one month, has moved on to the Houston Astros.

The 31-year-old right-hander was dealt to the National League club Monday for a figure in excess of the $20,000 waiver price or a player to be named after the 1967 season. Buzhardt pitched only 11 2-3 innings in seven appearances for Baltimore after being obtained on waivers from the Chicago White Sox on Aug. 21. He lost his only decision and posted a 4.63 earned run average.

His 1967 record is 3-10, and his career mark for four major league clubs since 1958 is 67-92, across.

Notre Dame
First, Texas
Goes to 8th

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Unexpected developments involving Houston, Michigan State, Alabama and Miami of Florida, among others, resulted in a wholesale shifting of positions from second to 10th in the latest Associated Press college football poll.

There could well be a scramble from top to bottom next week.

That's because the No. 1 team, Notre Dame, faces 10th-ranked Purdue on the Boilermakers' field while runner-up Southern California tackles what appears to be an unusually-weak Michigan State team this Saturday.

The Spartans plummeted from third place all the way out of the Top Ten after being thrashed 37-7 by Houston. The Cougars took over the No. 3 spot.

Alabama, tied 37-37 by Florida State, dropped from second to ninth place, Miami, upset by Northwestern 12-7, slipped out of the ratings. The Hurricanes were eighth a week ago.

Notre Dame, the 1966 national titleholder, maintained a solid lead in this week's poll of 41 sports writers and broadcasters on the AP's national panel. The Irish collected 31 votes for first place and 390 points on a basis of 10 points for a first-place vote, nine for second etc.

Southern California's 17-13 triumph over Texas resulted in the Trojans' advancing from fourth to second and the Longhorns dropping from fifth to eighth.

UCLA, a 40-8 winner over Pitt, climbed from sixth to fourth. Georgia advanced from seventh to fifth after trampling Mississippi State 30-0 while Colorado moved up to sixth, a gain of three positions, by whipping Oregon, 17-13.

Nebraska, although idle, zoomed from 10th to seventh. Purdue replaced Miami in the rankings after defeating Texas A&M, 24-20 in its opening game.

In other games involving teams in the first 10 this week-end, Houston faces Wake Forest, UCLA takes on Washington State, Georgia meets Clemson, Nebraska plays Minnesota, Texas faces Texas Tech and Alabama plays Southern Mississippi. Colorado is not scheduled.

The Top Ten, with first place votes in parentheses and points on a 10-9-8-etc basis:

- 1. Notre Dame (31) 390
- 2. Southern Cal (4) 340
- 3. Houston (6) 279
- 4. UCLA 275
- 5. Georgia 260

Houston
Gets Past
the Phillies

By DICK COUGH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Dick Farrell and Gene Oliver were getting the job done for Philadelphia until Gene Mauch decided to recharge his battery. So, the Phillies' manager lifted Oliver for relief catcher . . . only to discover, too late, that it was Farrell who needed help on the pitching end.

The Houston Astros turned the tables on Mauch and Farrell in the ninth inning Monday night with a two-out, two-run rally that carried them past the Phillies 4-3.

In the only other games on the National League schedule, Jim Hart's run-scoring single in the 10th inning gave San Francisco a 2-1 nod over the New York Mets and Pittsburgh shaded Los Angeles 2-1 on Gene Alley's RBI single in the 11th.

California snarled Minnesota's American League pennant drive 9-2 while the New York Yankees ambushed Detroit 2-0 and Baltimore nipped Washington 3-2.

Farrell, Philadelphia's top reliever, throttled the Astros for 2-3 innings, then struck out the first two hitters he faced in the ninth before Sonny Jackson reached him for a single.

Mauch, attempting to hold the fleet Jackson on first, then sent strong-armed Clay Dalrymple behind the plate in place of Oliver, whose two-run double in the sixth had accounted for Philadelphia's 3-2 edge.

Dalrymple, however, never got a chance to display his defensive talents. Joe Morgan ripped a double to center, scoring Jackson with the tying run, and Jim Wynn delivered the winner with a single to right.

Farrell, who had replaced starter Chris Short in the sixth and appeared headed for his ninth save of the year, thus suffered his fifth loss in 15 decisions instead.

PASS CATCHING is a many-splendored art, as demonstrated by these pros. Henry Carr of the Giants, left, looks like the target—but he's actually making an interception. Buffalo's Paul Costa, center, shows the classic over-the-shoulder form of receiving, and Tom Matte of the Colts, also a sometime quarterback, outraced the defense after grabbing a short flip on the swing-out pattern.

And college football certainly is a manly outdoor sport."

Right up until the start of the NFL season, the New York Giants were trying to peddle Francis Peay, their high-priced sophomore tackle, who's supposed to have all the ability to push the pros around—if somebody could light a fire under him.

Not many men can dominate a football field like Jerry Levias of Southern Methodist did in the Mustangs' opener against Texas A&M. Maybe Howard Cosell ought to get off his kick of knocking sports writers for lack of objectivity and reportorial honesty after the botched-up Bonavenna-Milenderger bombast. Seems every time Howard or Angelo Dundee, helping him on the telecast, ventured an opinion, the fighters reacted the opposite way . . .

The Baltimore Colts have a sure way of getting rid of hanger-on players who persist in asking for tryouts. They tell them the first test is to outrun the personnel chief who's responsible for rounding up new talent for the Colts—Upton Bell, son of the late NFL commissioner. Of course, they don't tell 'em that Uppie also used to be a sprint star in Philadelphia high school circles who was barely nosed out in the city 100-yard dash finals by Herb Adderley, now an All-Pro defensive back with the Green Bay Packers . . .

The post pattern in football denotes a pass-receiving route in which the receiver, generally split wide, cuts in toward the middle of the field for the goal post. The man who runs it best is Gary Collins of the Cleveland Browns . . .

No athlete has a more dangerous avocation than Jim Marshall, the defensive end of the Minnesota Vikings. Jim has been a sky diver for the past four years—he has also tried scuba diving and hunted for treasure. "When you're out there floating," says Jim, "it's as close to being free as man will ever be. You're completely unattached from earth. Just you and the air. It's just great . . . But I don't jump during the season. I could get a sprained ankle, you know."

Marshall draws the line on one bit of frippery. He no longer tosses grapes in the air and catches them with his mouth. He did it one day and the grape lodged in his throat.

Between you'n'me, quarterbacks apparently never get too old to call the shots. Even if they're not in uniform. Among the old signal-callers actively employed to describe the pro action on television are Eddie LeBaron, Norm Van Brocklin in the NFL, Paul Christman and George Batterman in the AFL. And Warren Lahr, who does the Browns, reminds one and all that though he played most of his career as a defensive back, he originally made the Browns as a third-string quarterback.

Fore Hart came through. Frisella allowed just two hits over the first nine innings.

Willie Mays' sacrifice fly in the seventh pulled the Giants even after Ron Swoboda homered for the Mets in the top of the inning.

Rookie Jim Shellenback checked the Dodgers on six hits while going the distance for his first victory in the majors.

American Puzzle Still Unsettled

The key to the American League pennant puzzle rests in the hot little halos of California's Innocent-looking Angels. And don't they know it.

Bill Rigney's Angels ran right over Minnesota 9-2 Monday, dropping the Twins into a tie with idle Boston. Third-place Chicago, off Monday, is one-half game behind.

The ambitious Angels play the Twins again today and Wednesday and then finish the season with four games against fourth-place Detroit, which ran into Al Downing's four-hit pitching and lost 2-0 at New York. The Tigers are 1½ games behind, with five to play.

In the only other American League game played Monday, Baltimore slipped past Washington 3-2. In the National League, San Francisco nipped New York 2-1 in 10 innings, Houston edged Philadelphia 4-3 and Pittsburgh shaded Los Angeles 2-1 in 11 innings.

"I don't care who wins it," smiled Rigney, surveying his club's steady diet of Minnesota and Detroit for the final week. "All I know is we were going to help somebody lose it." Then Rigney told how he prepared for Showdown Week.

"I rested Don Mincher, Jim Fregosi and Bobby Knoop at Kansas City Sunday to get ready for OUR World Series. We can't win the pennant, but we can spoil it for the Tigers and Twins."

Fregosi and Rick Reichardt did most of Monday's spilling against Minnesota. Each had three hits in the first four innings as the Angels rocked Jim Merritt and Dave Boswell for seven quick runs.

California nipped Merritt for a run in the first on consecutive singles by Fregosi, Richard and Bubba Morton. Then Fregosi socked a two-run triple as the Angels scored three in the second.

Four straight singles by Fregosi, Richard, Mincher and Jimmie Hall helped build a three-run fourth as California wrapped it up early.

The Twins chased California starter George Brunet in the fourth, scoring two runs on four straight singles, but Jack Hamilton stopped that rally and got credit for his ninth victory. Curt Simmons finished up.

Downing retired the first 11 Tigers he faced and allowed only one hit over the first six innings.

Phone Calls to Be Cheap After Midnight

WASHINGTON (AP) — You'll soon be able to make a cross-country telephone call for 75 cents—if you don't mind waiting until midnight to dial.

The Federal Communications Commission announced Monday details of $100 million in long-distance rate reductions it has ordered for American Telephone and Telegraph Co. The new rates take effect Nov. 1.

The reductions include inauguration of a 75-cent maximum rate for three-minute long-distance calls placed between midnight and 7 a.m. and dialed by the customer.

The present coast-to-coast maximum is $1 for station-to-station calls placed between 8 p.m. and 4:30 a.m. Monday through Saturday and all day Sunday. The $1 rate period will be expanded to 7 p.m. to 7 a.m. Monday through Friday plus all day Saturday, Sunday, Thanksgiving, Christmas, New Year's Day, July 4 and Labor Day, except for calls where the new 75-cent rate applies.

Other changes will reduce charges for most calls beyond 468 miles. But the commission increased by $15 million rates for interstate calls up to 24 miles distant. Costs will increase 5 cents for the first three minutes.

An additional $20 million in rate cuts are to be put into effect next year as part of an FCC probe of AT&T's finances.

Other cuts, all for three-minute coast-to-coast calls: —Day rate, station-to-station, $2 to $1.75. —Evening rate, station-to-station, $1.50 to $1.25, with evening rate period beginning at 5 p.m. instead of 6 p.m. —Day rate, person-to-person, $3.50 to $3.30. —Night rate, person-to-person, $3 to $2.85.

Lower prices were also set for some overseas services and for Wide Area Telephone Service, a block payment system used by some volume callers.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Municipal Judge Quinn Glover continued until Oct. 27 today the cases of six persons who were arrested early Sunday in raids on three Little Rock private clubs.

The six were charged with selling whisky without a license.

Glover passed their cases at the request of defense attorneys. They remained free on $200 bond each.

Police Chief R. E. Brians said detectives dressed as Razorback fans were admitted to the clubs without membership cards and were sold liquor. He said detectives were refused admittance to nine other private clubs.

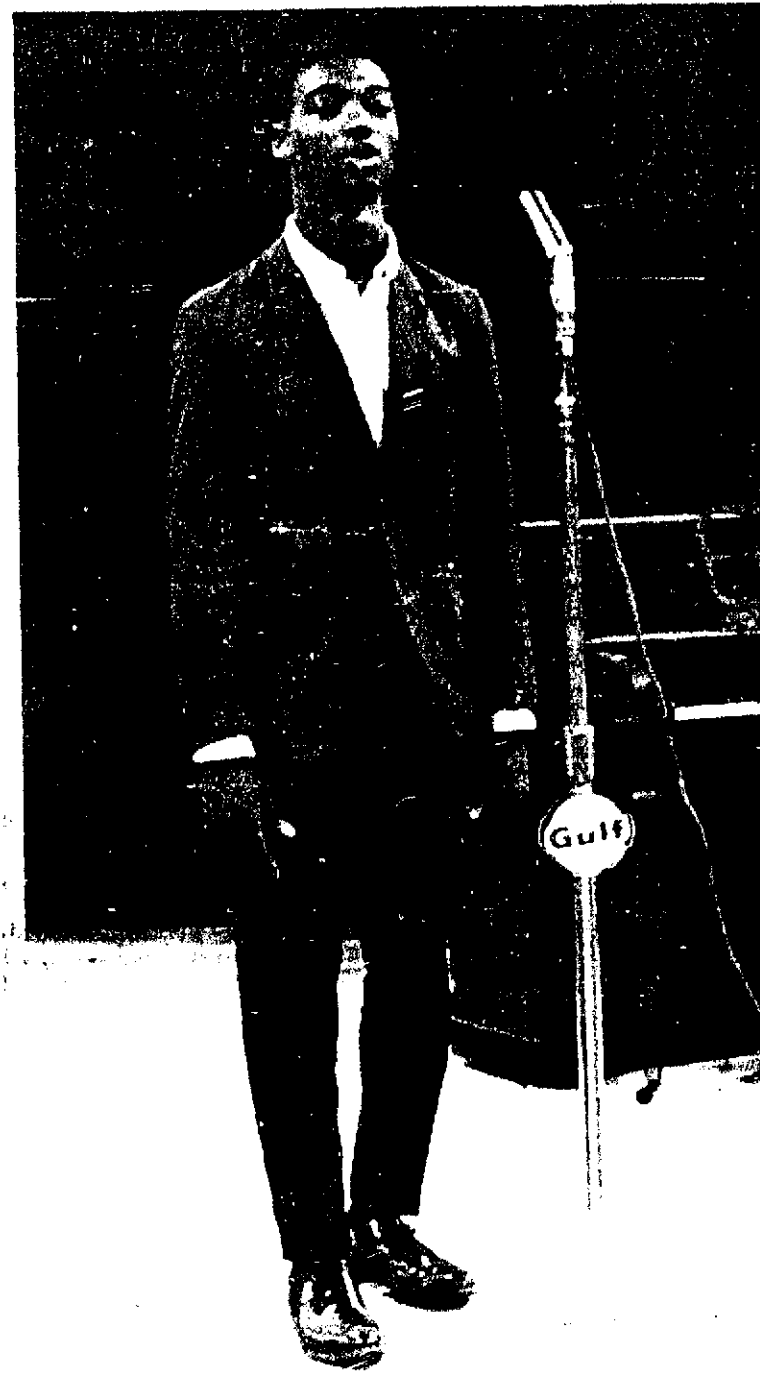

He said the three clubs raided by officers were the Industrial Park Businessmen's Club, Inc., Admiral Jimbo's University Club and The Petroleum Club. Brians said a large amount of liquor was confiscated.

He said today that "any club at which a citizen can walk in off the street without a membership card and buy liquor is, in my opinion, not a private club."

About 60 private clubs operate in Pulaski County.

Arrested in the raids were James R. Long, Anita Alberta Mitchell, James B. Walters, Jesse D. Jones, Frank Hugh

GOPs Charge LBJ Hasn't Told Truth

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican critics launched fresh charges today that President Johnson is not telling the American people the truth about the Vietnam war.

Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., said Johnson appeared to be "indulging the proponents of a military solution in Vietnam for political reasons" by ordering air attacks on North Vietnam ports after Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said this would not be an effective means of stopping the infiltration of supplies into the South.

Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., said the public isn't being told by the administration of the danger that bombing near Red China will bring that country into the war. He repeated previous charges that the President has been "constantly wrong" about "where we stand, what we can accomplish and what the war will cost."

Case voiced his views in a prepared Senate speech, Percy in an interview.

Case, a Senate Foreign Relations Committee member who has urged that the bombing be limited to vital military targets, said the administration's handling of the war has produced "a crisis of confidence."

"The people's anxiety, and that of Congress too, springs perhaps in greatest part from a growing conviction that the administration is not telling them the truth," he said.

"The administration's continuing assurances of progress in Vietnam simply do not square with the cold fact that toward our basic objective—that of creating an independent self-governing society supported by its citizens—there has been no significant progress at all."

Percy said the reaction to a series of weekend speeches in which he attacked what he called "the great problem of credibility" on the part of the administration convinced him the public is deeply concerned by this issue.

He said he would oppose withdrawal from Vietnam but believes there is unjustified escalation of the war.

New Trends in Church Worship

SEATTLE (AP) — While leaders of the Episcopal Church debate transcending problems at their general convention here, others are showing off new trends in church worship.

One of the latest is a folk Mass composed and played on a guitar by the Rev. Ian Mitchell of White Plains, N.Y. He also delivered the sermon Monday to about 75 priests, nuns—both Catholic and Episcopal—some hippies and others.

Father Mitchell, speaking in hippie jargon that at times drew laughs from the congregation, put on a powerful plea for peace, for love of Christ and for fellow man. He told of the miracles described in the New Testament and declared: "You gotta accept the whole bag or forget it all."

"Man, like that's a love come-on you can't forget!" said one of the hippies.

Cattle Sale Benefits the Crippled

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — More than 350 head of cattle, and one goat which brought a cumulative $1,620, were sold for $47,585.05 Monday in the seventh cattlemen's roundup for crippled children.

The Texas stockmen chipped in another $23,000 to bring to $70,585.05 the total of the roundup. The money goes to the nonprofit West Texas Rehabilitation Center.

Prize cattle went on the block. But the most surprising sale was a nanny goat.

She was sold and re-sold 31 times. The last buyer, Charles Morris of Abilene, donated the goat to be sold again in an Oct. 2 sale.

WIN AT BRIDGE
'Doubtful Double' South's Undoing
By Oswald & James Jacoby
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

If there is any expert bridge player who has never gone wrong in deciding whether his partner has doubled for penalty, takeout or just pure pleasure, we would like to meet him. We haven't yet.

One reason for this is that there are so many doubles in modern bridge that may well be described as "doubtful doubles."

West's two diamond overcall was super sound and many players would have made a takeout double instead of merely overcalling. North and East had no problems and South chose to rebid his spade suit.

West's double of two spades was one of those really doubtful doubles, but he had a lot going for him. If East chose to pass, West had enough strength so that two spades would probably be set; if East chose to bid, West was ready for that also.

East did not know what his partner's double meant but he didn't really care. He was happy to pass.

West started by cashing two high diamonds. East discarded his seven and jack of clubs whereupon West played

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG
Start of Menopause Varies Widely by Age
By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—At what age does the menopause start? What would cause menopause in a woman of 25? Could it run in a family?

A—The age at which the menopause starts varies widely and is not related to the age onset of puberty, marital status or number of pregnancies. It usually starts between the ages of 45 and 50. In a few women it has been known to start as late as 59 or 60. It is rare for it to start under the age of 40 and when it does this tendency may be hereditary. Since any disease that interferes with the function of the ovaries will cause the menopause, such a cause should be sought in a woman whose menopause started at age 25.

Q—What is the cause of hot flushes in the early morning? What treatment, other than hormone injections, would you advise?

A—Hot flushes are usually taken to mean the beginning of the menopause but they often persist long after all signs of menstruation have stopped. They are an indication of instability of the blood vessels of the skin and may be aggravated by hot weather, an overheated room or nervous excitement.

To keep these spells to a minimum you should maintain an even disposition and bring your weight down to the

THE FAMILY LAWYER
Of Beauticians and Barbers

In the average visit to a beauty shop or barber shop, the customer's greatest risk is a curl that won't stay put or a botched sideburn.

But occasionally the hazard may be more serious. Injury may be done not just to the customer's vanity but to his person. When that happens, the law may be called upon to fix responsibility for the harm.

The general rule is that, by opening its doors to the public, a shop promises the kind of service provided by "a reasonably prudent and skillful person engaged in the same business." If its service falls below that standard, the proprietor may be held liable for the consequences.

For example:

A woman collected damages from a beauty shop because the operator, washing her hair, doused her head with scalding water.

And in another case, a woman won damages for a skin infection resulting from a facial treatment given without the proper sanitary precautions.

This standard of quality applies not only to the service rendered but also to the equipment used and the condition of the premises. Thus, a woman successfully sued a beauty shop on the basis of a soapy puddle on the floor which caused her to slip, fall, and suffer assorted injuries.

Nevertheless, the management is not held to an ironclad guarantee of safety. If an accident was not reasonably avoidable, the law will not impose liability.

Accordingly, a woman who stumbled while getting out of a chair was denied damages from the beauty shop where it occurred. The judge could see no way the management could fairly be blamed for such a mishap.

In one famous case, a barber wiped his razor against the disposable tissue lying on the customer's stomach. By coincidence, the razor happened to touch an ultra-ticklish spot. The customer yelped, grabbed instinctively, and closed his hand on the razor.

Badly cut, he sued the barber for triggering this awful chain of events. But the court, unconvinced, turned down his claim. The judge said:

"The plaintiff at most shows a pure accident. In the nature of things, a similar misfortune will not happen again in many a moon."

Grim Aftermath of Hurricane,
Flood Disaster

Hurricane Beulah went ashore in south Texas, the Rio Grande flooded—and the worst storm in history rolls up a fantastic toll in lives and damage.

The latest estimate puts property loss at one billion dollars, with thousands of persons homeless. The erratic nature of hurricanes was pictured by an NEA Service map in yesterday's Star. Normally you think of the great sea storms traveling up Florida and the East Coast, or whirling out of the Gulf of Mexico and lashing the Louisiana and Texas coastline. But Beulah was an evil bird with a mind of its own. The hurricane headed westward through the lower Caribbean, went under Jamaica (which lies below Cuba), crossed the tip of Mexico's Yucatan Peninsula—and veered north to strike savagely at the Brownsville-Padre Island area of Texas.

In a section where the land is never more than a few feet above high tide this was an evil disaster. Homes and businesses were wiped out, and only a masterful rescue operation kept thousands from losing their lives.

The Rio Grande Valley had its best citrus crop since 1960 close to harvesting, but losses of the green fruit range from 5 to 70 per cent, and damage to the citrus crop alone is put at 50 millions.

And now a grim aftermath is told this writer by travelers who have been close to the stricken coast. People attempting to return to their homes find them full of snakes. And an anti-snake drive is necessary before rebuilding can begin.

This story stirs up memories of what happened when Lake Greason began to fill up behind the Narrows Dam. In our own section. The rising lake created many islands—but the first family that tried to hold an island picnic was quickly disillusioned.

The islands were alive with rattlesnakes, trapped by the rising waters.

Eventually the islands were more or less cleared as the rattlers left by natural choice. But the homeless in south Texas can't wait on natural evolution. So a monumental snake hunt is under way.

Tragic and endless is the story of a hurricane—and Beulah was the worst.

Prisoner Is Arrested

MENA, Ark. (AP) — A Cummins Prison Farm inmate who failed to return to Cummins in July after receiving emergency leave was arrested here Monday.

The inmate was identified as Dan Spencer, 41, who was serving five years for grand larceny from Polk County.

State Trooper Kenneth Hendrix made the arrest. Spencer was given emergency leave to go to Fort Smith but failed to return to Cummins July 3. Hendrix said he apprehended Spencer in the Mena city limits.

Enters Plea of Not Guilty

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Elvin J. Taylor Jr. pleaded not guilty here Monday in federal District Court to charges that he had embezzled $34,750 from the Merchants and Planters Bank of Clarendon.

10 Mexican Children Die From Poison

By ROBERT BURNETT
TIJUANA, Mexico (AP) — Ten children are dead in an apparent outbreak of poisoning in this Mexican border town, 15 miles from San Diego, Calif.

Mexican state police rounded up about 20 dairy operators, cheese salesmen, store owners and other persons Monday as parents from the city's poorest districts continued to stream to hospitals with their blanket-wrapped, retching children.

Authorities were checking milk supplies as a possible source. Police said no charges had been filed against the 20 persons, but that they were being held for investigation.

Dep. Dist. Atty. Hector Valdivia said 10 children have been confirmed as dead in the outbreak, but Tijuana police said as many as 20 could die eventually. The dead ranged in age from three months to 10 years.

Scores of children crammed the wards of the city's hospitals, some two to a bed. One hospital reported three dead and more than 60 ill. Doctors worked feverishly to save the ailing children, but said several of them would not survive.

Physicians used universal antidotes and antihistamines to treat the poisoning, after pumping out the stomach of each child. They said milk was found in the stomach of every child treated.

Dr. Jorge Salas Cepeda said six adults were suffering from the same symptoms as the children. He said the victims suffer from vomiting, diarrhea and general weakness.

Pedro Luna Sanchez, standing outside the crowded Red Cross hospital, said his 10-year-old son developed the symptoms within a half hour after he had a breakfast of bread and milk.

Luna Sanchez, a day laborer and the father of 11, said "it seemed strange. Three other children who had milk from the same bottle did not become sick."

The first case of poisoning was reported early Monday at the Red Cross hospital.

Commission Gets Donation

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — George Wildgen, executive secretary of the Arkansas Governmental Efficiency Study Commission, said Monday that Pollack Forests, Inc., of Warren was the first private business to make a cash contribution to the commission.

Wildgen said the firm donated $1,500 to the commission.

Wife, Attorney Killed by Irate Husband and the Judge Is Wounded

RAPID CITY, S.D. (AP) — A routine divorce proceeding ended in a blaze of gunfire Monday leaving the wife in the case and her attorney dead and the judge wounded. The husband was held without charge today.

Attendants at the Pennington County courthouse said the shooting broke out after Ray Bivins, a tourist attraction owner in his late 60s, was told by the judge that he would have to pay his wife more than $3,000 in alimony.

Dead are Mrs. Bivins, a plumpish, reddish-blond 53, and her lawyer, William Brady, 39, a father of four.

Circuit Judge Thomas Parker, 48, a nephew of the late Los Angeles Police Chief William Parker, was hospitalized in satisfactory condition with a wound to the head.

Showdown on Tax Bill Scheduled

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republicans, determined that President Johnson reduce spending if he's to get his tax hike bill through Congress, plan a showdown on the issue Wednesday.

Rep. Frank T. Bow, of Ohio, senior GOP member of the Appropriations Committee, said he will try at a Wednesday committee meeting to tie to an emergency appropriations bill his provision requiring Johnson to reduce the spending levels the President announced in January.

But Democrats control the committee, 30 to 20, and Chairman George H. Mahon, D-Tex., said he will fight Bow's plan.

The committee will meet in the morning. That afternoon, the House will take up the temporary funding bill.

Federal agencies which haven't received their annual money allotments will be out of funds after midnight Saturday unless Congress enacts the bill extending for a month a temporary appropriations plan. The current budget year began July 1, but many spending bills have not been enacted.

Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler and other administration spokesmen have said the President can't decide on spending cuts until he knows just how much in appropriations Congress will give him.

But Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, senior Republican on the Ways and Means Committee, said the President must

Flooding Brings More Evacuations

By PAUL REGER
HARLINGEN, Tex. (AP) — Rampaging Rio Grande floodwaters pounded relentlessly through this lower valley city today, with at least 200 homes inundated by the wild waters unleashed by deluges from Hurricane Beulah.

Damage estimates mounted past the $1 billion estimated by state and federal officials after Beulah struck the Texas-Mexico Gulf coast a few miles southeast of Harlingen.

Harlingen residents, among them owners of some of the city's most expensive homes, fled before the flood's fury. They joined thousands left homeless by Beulah's 160-mile-an-hour winds, giant tides and massive rains.

The death toll from Beulah and tornadoes spawned by the hurricane-created turbulence stood at 44, including 11 in Texas and 33 elsewhere in the big storm's wake from the Windward Islands through Mexico's Yucatan Peninsula.

The Red Cross said it was sheltering more than 25,000 persons in 17 cities, not counting 4,500 Mexicans who sought emergency shelter in private U.S. homes. The Mexican government counted 100,000 home less on its side of the Rio Grande from Camargo 100 miles downstream to Matamoros, near the river's mouth.

The flooding became serious Sunday night after a diversion dam on the Arroyo Colorado broke, sending tons of water down that wide diversion channel. Conditions worsened Monday when another floodway diversion structure broke at Madro, further upstream.

An International Boundary and Water Commission spokesman said late Monday night the situation would get no better

GOPs Attack Job Plan But Make No Move on the Antipoverty Issue

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republicans attacked Sen. Joseph S. Clark's $2.8 billion amendment for launching an emergency job program but made no formal move to knock it out of the administration's antipoverty bill.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said Monday in the first day of debate on the bill that if the emergency job program proposed by the Pennsylvania Democrat is retained at all, it should be only on a pilot basis.

Referring to President Franklin D. Roosevelt's Depression days programs for creating jobs in the 1930s, Dirksen said: "I hope we are not going again into the same grim thing of made work, in which money was scattered about the country with nothing to show for it."

The Clark plan would create 500,000 government jobs in the next two years. Republicans also attacked the rider as exceeding President Johnson's budget.

But one GOP senator said privately today he thought any move to scuttle the plan should come from a Democrat.

"President Johnson says he is against this," the senator told a reporter. "If so, it's up to the administration to get some one from its side to strike it from the bill."

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield declined comment. Clark, floor manager for the entire bill, said in an interview he is confident a big majority of Democrats would vote to keep his amendment in the measure.

He said no senator had officially notified him so far of intentions to offer an amendment to knock it out.

Clark offered the rider as a response to what he said was a basic need revealed by city riots this summer. It would finance an estimated 200,000 jobs in the current fiscal year and 300,000 next year, mostly in government service employment in such fields as health, recreation and conservation.

The Clark rider was added to a bill authorizing $2.3 billion to extend the antipoverty program for a fourth year.

Artillery Duels Rage in Vietnam

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
SAIGON (AP) — Embattled U.S. Marines at the strategic northern outpost of Con Thien today took the brunt of the heaviest sustained Communist firepower in Vietnam since the French defeat at Dien Bien Phu. The Marines hurled back 10 shells for each one fired at them.

More than 1,000 shells fell Monday on Con Thien, a scarred fortress 2½ miles south of the demilitarized zone and the key to the Marine defenses astride Communist invasion routes to the south. The Marines reported two dead and 202 wounded, and said they believe enemy losses are running high.

Sixty-three Americans have been killed around Con Thien in the three weeks since the Reds started a battle of attrition whose eventual goal, some observers say, may be control of South Vietnam's important northern tier provinces. U.S. sources say there may be as many as 35,000 North Vietnamese massed in and above the DMZ.

U.S. bombers and jets rained 600,000 pounds of explosives on enemy gunpits but the North Vietnamese fire continued.

It was their loss at Dien Bien Phu that convinced the French in 1954 to get out of Indochina.

The Red gunners raked other American installations in the battle area, including the Navy patrol boat base at Cua Viet. When the shelling started, the fleet of swift boats sped out to sea and called upon the nearby destroyer Morton to open up on the Red shore batteries.

Further north, the destroyer Mansfield was hit by enemy shore guns. One sailor was killed and two more wounded.

The Mansfield was shelling coastal barges near Dong Hoi when Red batteries opened up. One shell ripped a four-foot hole in the base of her forward stack and shrapnel flew through the fire room and passageways. The Mansfield shifted her fire to the shore guns and silenced them while dodging an estimated 47 shells that splashed into the water around her.

Spotty weather over North Vietnam limited U.S. pilots to 124 missions, mostly in the panhandle area stretching north from the demilitarized zone.

A few strikes went into the well-defended heartland. The most significant was a Navy raid on the highway and rail bridge a mile from the mining port of Cam Pha, the third biggest in North Vietnam and the port from which the Hanoi regime exports coal to pay for some arms purchases.

Although there were scattered skirmishes up and down Vietnam, the main ground action was at Con Thien, the sandbagged fortress 520 feet above sea level, atop a rolling hill of red clay.

British Call for Immediate Peace Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — British Foreign Secretary George Brown called today for immediate peace talks on Vietnam, but charged that Communist Hanoi has "declined to grasp the many opportunities to negotiate that have been offered."

In a wide ranging policy speech before the 122-nation General Assembly, Brown appealed anew for a settlement of the war on the basis of the Geneva conference on Indochina.

"I see no reason why a balanced settlement embracing these principles should not be achieved on the basis of the Geneva agreements," Brown declared.

"Both the United States and North Vietnam have said that this basis would be acceptable to them."

As chairmen of the Geneva conference, the Soviet Union and Britain have the authority to bring Vietnam before that body. But Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko remained adamant against the idea when Brown sounded him out over the weekend.
